

Give Thanks

A Storytelling Game of Thanksgiving

Game Setup:

Place the trivia cards on the board. Each player chooses a token and places it at Start.

Game Play:

Players take turns rolling the die, moving that number of spaces, then following the instructions on the space where they landed. If you land on a ? space, you must answer a trivia question. If you answer it correctly, you may pick a treasure. Players continue around the board telling stories, answering questions, and collecting and giving treasures.

Once a player has collected each of the five different treasures, they continue around the board until they reach Start, then instead of continuing around the board, they may move up toward Home. The first player to reach Home is the winner. A player must have one each of the five different treasures, not just five treasures.

Note: This game also works well played with small teams so people can switch off relating stories.

To speed the game up, reduce the number of treasures required to turn up the home stretch.

Give Thanks

A Storytelling Game of Thanksgiving

Game Setup:

Place the trivia cards on the board. Each player chooses a token and places it at Start.

Game Play:

Players take turns rolling the die, moving that number of spaces, then following the instructions on the space where they landed. If you land on a ? space, you must answer a trivia question. If you answer it correctly, you may pick a treasure. Players continue around the board telling stories, answering questions, and collecting and giving treasures.

Once a player has collected each of the five different treasures, they continue around the board until they reach Start, then instead of continuing around the board, they may move up toward Home. The first player to reach Home is the winner. A player must have one each of the five different treasures, not just five treasures.

Note: This game also works well played with small teams so people can switch off relating stories.

To speed the game up, reduce the number of treasures required to turn up the home stretch.